Aerojet signs Superfund cleanup agreement

Aerojet General Corp. has signed a groundwater cleanup agreement for the San Gabriel Valley Superfund site.

The Sacramento corporation is one of 19 potentially responsible parties named by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agencies and one of eight companies to have signed the agreement.

Chris Conley -- vice president of environmental health and safety for GenCorp Inc., Aerojet's parent company -- cited U.S. Rep. David Dreier, a Republican from San Dimas, for driving the agreement and for securing U.S. money for the project.

GenCorp is a manufacturer in aerospace and defense, pharmaceutical fine chemicals and automotive goods.
